

SO, WHAT IS THE I.S.P.A.

The Iowa State Pigeon Association was founded to encourage the breeding and exhibiting of all breeds of pigeons, It is also to foster friendliness and good fellowship between fellow members and other breeders throughout the country.

The I.S.P.A. supplies helpful and interested information through its website. Bulletins and other printed literature and otherwise assists in the further development and popularity of all pigeon breeders and their breeds.

WHAT ELSE DO I NEED TO KNOW?

“The Association of Pigeon Veterinarians, after careful review of the documentation of the Avian Disease Research Committee of the American Pigeon Fanciers Council, and the implemented studied of the National Avian Disease Task Force for pigeons and doves, and consideration of the data from the United States Center for Disease Control (CDC), we do affirm and testify that to our knowledge, the raising, keeping and the exercising of pigeons and doves represents no more of a health hazard than the keeping of other communal or domestic pets.”

The Iowa State Pigeon Association

is the most recognized organization for all breeds of pigeons, It is an organization composed of people from all walks of life who share a simple common bond “the love of pigeon”

Pigeon breeding is a great hobby for young and old alike and everyone in between. As a hobby for children, it teaches responsibility in caring for animals, It is a great family hobby that mom and dad can enjoy being a part of along with their children. Thousands of adults breed pigeons. Form many, this worthwhile pastime offers a break from business or profession, and servers as a wonderful way to relax. Retired individuals also enjoy the hobby. The golden years become even greater, especially with a fun hobby like breeding and showing pigeons.

So what does pigeon breeding mean?

Is it just keeping a few pairs of birds and watching them raise young? Well, not exactly! It is about breeding and showing the birds if one desire to do that

The domestic pigeon is quite different than the pigeon that you may see flying on a public street or park. Some pigeon breeds have been around for hundreds of years and some are thousand of years old. They are all the result of selective breeding for certain desirable characteristics.

Pigeon shows have played a large part in advancing the all breed pigeon hobby as we know it today.

IOWA STATE PIGEON ASSOC.

The I. S. P. A. as it most often referred, promotes the hobby of raising and showing of all breeds of pigeons, Every December on the second weekend we hold the annual All Breed Show with well over 4,000 birds entered and pigeons breeders coming to this show from all across the country and some even coming from other countries. Fancier travel to the Iowa State Pigeon Show to show their birds and visit with friends. The I.S.P.A. is about two things - - Friendship and pigeons. It all adds up to a lot of FUN !!!

THE PIGEON HOBBY

The Iowa State Pigeon Association is one of the leading forces that holds the pigeon hobby together. The I.S.P.A. is service oriented to its members and offers help to the members when needed.

In addition, a bi-monthly bulletin is published that informs the membership of different pigeon related activities.

The I.S.P.A. has an official Web Page.
